

ADRIANOPLE IS WHOLE REGION FIRED BY COMRS TO CELEBRATE

Explosives Dropped From Aeroplanes Upon Turkish Army

ALKAN CRISIS RELIEVED

arks Have Pick of Men Now Stationed Along Lines at Tohtatalja

NOV 27.—A large part of Adrianople has been set on fire through dropping of pyroxylin bombs from aeroplanes, according to a dispatch from Mustafa Pasha.

Official reports say that partial bilization of the Roumanian army has been ordered.

The Bulgarian recruits of the 1912 have been summoned to join the army by December 3.

LONDON, Nov 27.—The tension in Balkan crisis is sensibly relieved by the news that the peace plenipotentiaries are continuing their negotiations and that Great Britain and Germany are working actively to secure a peaceful settlement between Austria and Serbia.

According to one Constantinople dispatch the difficulties in way of arranging a formal armistice are so great that the negotiations are taking the form of seeking a basis of peace.

The danger of reopening of hostilities, however, is still serious. Apparently only an informal armistice of 48 hours has been agreed upon and it is reported that the Bulgarian forces are being closer to the Tohtatalja line, entrenching themselves in readiness to renew the attack.

Turks Have Fresh Troops. Turkey has a new army of more than 100,000, and soon will have 130,000, the most part fresh picked troops and the lines and it is certain, according to all the reports, that they give a good account of themselves in fighting is resumed.

Under these circumstances together with the faith in Adrianople and Scutari holding out Turkey is little likely to show a yielding attitude in the negotiations.

A report that the Serbians have been Durazzo appears premature. A dispatch of today's date brings interesting news that Albanian independence has been proclaimed there.

The Turkish government is pleading to depart and that the town is being without protest the new line.

The greatest weight is attached in diplomatic world to the seemingly anticipated report that Great Britain and Germany are now acting in concert on the basis of postponing the issues until after the war settlement comes from St. Petersburg.

That Russia and Austria do not seem to fight over a peril in the Balkans. Thus what appeared to be imminent danger seems to be dissipated for the time being at least.

Turks Number 130,000. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov 27 (United Press).—According to an officer of the Turkish army, who has just returned from the front, the Turkish army now numbers 130,000, they will soon be increased to 150,000.

worthless men on the lines will be sent back to Constantinople, their being taken by the troops now being brought up. The new recruits are considered of high value, as they are men of all ages now well equipped.

Officers say the army is in no danger for peace, but expects soon to be offensive, and that the war will continue for some time.

BRIGHT SUNSHINE PREDICTED FOR DAY

Church Services, Feasting, Sports, Opera and Ball Are on the Program

Smiling skies and bright sunshine will be the Thanksgiving weather setting for Colorado Springs, according to predictions last night. The clouds that have been hovering for the last few days will clear away and the temperature will be much warmer if weather experts keep their promise.

After religious worship this morning the day will be spent in feasting and in holiday pastimes. Business will be practically suspended. All the city and county departments, the banks and most of the stores will close. The holiday schedule will be in effect at the postoffice.

There is a turkey dinner for every person in Colorado Springs whether he has a penny or not. Those who are unable to provide for themselves will be provided for by the Associated Charities with Thanksgiving basket dinners and at the big free dinner at the Peoples Mission.

Football on Washburn field and golf on various links will attract devotees to out-of-door sports.

The Isle of Dreams at the Grand Opera house and the Politeama hall at Temple theater are attractions for tonight.

GIVE NEW BONDS OR GO TO JAIL

FOURTEEN DYNAMITERS ARE AFFECTED

Clash Occurs in Court Room and Marshal Is Called to Restore Quiet

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. Nov 27.—On the ground that their present bonds aggregating $105,000 were undiminished and therefore invalid, 14 of the 45 defendants in the dynamite conspiracy trial were instructed by the court today that within a reasonable time they must procure new bonds or certain in jail during the intervals between the sessions of trial.

The court held that as it was on the eve of a holiday, he would not enforce his ruling tonight in which event attorneys for the defense said the defendants must inevitably have gone to jail for new bonds could not be had on such short notice.

Three other defendants Herbert S. Hockin, Indianapolis, and Edward Smith and James E. Ray, Peoria, Ill., have been confined in the county jail for several days because they were unable to furnish bonds aggregating $15,000.

Court Threatens Lawyer. In the argument over the point, Federal Judge Anderson accused Alfred R. Hovey, of the defense counsel, of being "insolent" to the court, adding: "If you repeat the offense, I'll put you where you will need some bonds."

At first District Attorney Miller included Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and John T. Butler, vice president of the union, among those whose bonds, he said, were undiminished, but later attorneys for them announced that the indemnity had been withdrawn, but bondsmen alone were responsible for the appearance of these particular defendants.

Mr. Miller intimated that some time before next Saturday night might be the limit upon which the men may remain at liberty on their present bonds.

Judge Anderson added that a bondsman who was secured against liberty.

DEFEAT REBELS IN MARCH ON JUAREZ

Battle Lasts Four Hours, With 29 Killed and Many Wounded

EL PASO, Tex., Nov 27.—Rebels met their first defeat today in the projected movement against Juarez when repulsed by a small federal garrison at Guzman, a few miles south of the border. After four hours' fighting 500 rebels under Gen. Luez Salazar were defeated by the 200 federal defenders, the town, possession of which controls the Mexico Northwestern railway.

The federal version of the attack, received tonight at Juarez, gives the rebel killed at 25 while the federalists lost only four killed and one officer and 100 private wounded. Salazar is reported to have been killed. Palomas, a small town on the border, was captured by the rebels, but the movement against Juarez in which are cooperating other rebel groups.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving day! What does it mean? A family feast, a holiday, a football game? Yes, all of these, and we are glad it means these things. For it is good for our family life to gather as many as possible about the family board. And it is good for the rush of modern life to get a full day of rest and pleasure. The traditional ball game also adds its zest to the day's gladness.

But if this is all that the day contains, have we not lost a chance of winning a greater job, of adding a deeper note, to our rejoicing? Should we not remember that Thanksgiving day is the one day of the whole year that our nation takes religious cognizance of?

The old words of warning are still true words, and because they are true they live: "Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God; lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses and dwelt therein; and when thy herds and thy flocks multiply and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied, then thine heart be lifted up and thou forget the Lord thy God. And thou say in thine heart, My power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth."

For the only adequate explanation of life is found in God. Eliminate God, and life must be logically confined to the short space that lies between the cradle and the grave. But within those limits the fitful fever we call life cannot justify itself. Ten millions in our country are just above the starving line. Millions more are harassed by perpetual cares and ceaseless worries. The very rich are scarcely ever the very happy, and between these extremes lies the great rank and file of men, all subject to the common ills of humanity, sickness, sorrow and many a disappointment.

But out of this rocky soil which we call Time and Life is springing into existence that most wonderful of all products, human character: love, sympathy, perseverance, justice, righteousness. With an infinite future before us, how inestimable in worth are these qualities. With no future, how utterly they fail to justify the hard strife out of which they were born. "The great useless virtues," Maeterlinck calls them; and to the man of short vision they are useless, for they stand in the way of so many other things of more immediate profit.

But when we take God and that eternity that his existence necessitates into our scheme of life, then all is changed. Joy and happiness, great deeds and sacrifices, nobility of heart and mind, these press on to fuller life, and their promise is not falsified by death.

Therefore our nation is in the right when she calls us "to assemble in our accustomed places of worship" and remember the part God has to play in our prosperity and wealth, in our problems and aspirations, in our disappointments and sorrows.

Where all things lead to God, the feast brings no bitterness, happiness does not end in mockery. The lights must needs go out, but there is still the promise of a new day.

CUT WIDE SWATH IN SPRINGS; ALLEGED TO HAVE DEFRAUDED TWO MERCHANTS ON FORGED CHECKS

A Y Stevens 28 years old, of 1229 North Weber street, who boasted that he was the "best dressed man in Colorado Springs" has disappeared and on his trail are the police with warrants for his arrest on charges of forgery. Stevens is accused of forging and passing two checks, each for $75, last Tuesday afternoon, over the signature of Dr. W. W. Williams of 1231 North Cascade avenue. Both checks were drawn on the El Paso National bank. In his effects last night were found four more checks, each for $75, drawn to his own order, over the signature of Dr. Williams' and also on the El Paso National bank.

With one check Stevens purchased an overcoat from the Perkins-Shearer company and received $50 cash in change. An hour later he tendered the other check in payment for a suit of clothes at the Gann-Dowling company, and again received $50 cash in change. When the forgery was discovered at the bank, the victims notified the police, but Stevens then had vanished, leaving no clew.

Dr. and Mrs. Williams are visiting in the east, and Stevens, evidently aware of their absence, probably believed that he might forge the checks without danger of immediate detection.

Came Here From Boston. Stevens came here about a month ago from Boston, and, according to information received by the police, there is a probationary sentence in the Suffolk county jail hanging over him for an offense that has not been entered. This is all that is known here of his record.

Immediately upon his arrival in Colorado Springs Stevens rented a room at the Y. M. C. A. He spent money lavishly and dressed in the height of fashion. About a week ago, he left the Y. M. C. A. and rented an expensive furnished residence at 1229 North Weber street, paying $40 in advance for rent to the Sun Realty company. He also made a deposit of $10 to the electric company for light and gas.

Stevens maintained expensive habits, making heavy purchases on credit of the best market offered. He even had a Thanksgiving turkey and other good things for a feast today sent to his home on

GOV. DIX GRANTS PATRICK PARDON

WILL BE A FREE MAN AGAIN TODAY

Albert T. Patrick Given His Liberty—Was Aided by John T. Milliken

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov 27.—Albert T. Patrick, who is serving a life sentence in Sing Sing prison for the murder of William Marsh Rice, died in prison at 1000 West 10th street, Albany, Nov. 27, 1912. He was 40 years old when he was sentenced to Sing Sing in 1906 for the murder of William Marsh Rice, a prominent lawyer and politician. Patrick was a member of the Albany bar and was known for his political connections. He was pardoned by Governor Dix in 1908, but was sentenced to Sing Sing again in 1910 for the same crime. He was released today after serving 10 years in prison.

Case Is Mystery. The case of Patrick's pardon and his subsequent imprisonment is a mystery. It is said that Patrick was a member of the Albany bar and was known for his political connections. He was pardoned by Governor Dix in 1908, but was sentenced to Sing Sing again in 1910 for the same crime. He was released today after serving 10 years in prison.

The Crescent Market
135 E. Huerfano St.

Our business has increased so rapidly during the last few months, that I find myself unable to carry the volume of business on my books.

Therefore, beginning Monday, December 2nd, I will begin a strictly cash business.

This will enable me to buy and sell for cash and I will not be undersold.

It is a well-known fact that the credit merchant cannot compete with the cash merchant, as the credit man is absolutely sure to lose some accounts—he must therefore charge a little more for his goods—thereby forcing the prompt-pay customer to pay the bills of the never-pay customers.

I wish to thank my many credit customers who have been prompt in paying their bills and assure them that I will in future be better able to furnish them first-class meats at the lowest possible prices, thus making it an object to them to trade at a strictly cash market.

Come to the Crescent Market for your Thanksgiving meats as I have a full line of fancy Turkeys, Geese, Ducks, Chickens, Stock Fish, Oysters, Blue Points, Lobsters, Bull Heads, Clams, Black Bass, Veal, Pork, Mutton and Beef, and at the right prices.

J. E. MAHER
Phone 1824, 448 and 671

Two springers will be fresh in a few days, will sell for $45 each.

Just Arrived

Our corn-fed Turkeys, 18c and 20c per pound. Come early and make your selection; also a carload of choice and fancy Apples, ranging from 75c per box and up.

Eat Knowles' Jersey Cream Bread. The Butternut flavor will please you. Six loaves for 25c.

CAN ENJOY HIS FREEDOM UNTIL WITNESSES SHOW UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Maurice M. Lustig, convicted 30 months ago of poisoning his wife, and long an occupant of a "death-house" cell at Sing Sing, walked forth from court here today as a free man.

A new trial had been granted Lustig by the court of appeals, but Assistant District Attorney Nathan told Judge Mulqueen in special sessions today that two of the most important of the people's witnesses had disappeared, and he could not hope to convict Lustig without their testimony.

In allowing Lustig to leave court, Judge Mulqueen stipulated that he could yet be tried if the missing witnesses should be found.

Lustig was a private detective. He is 33 years old.

JAIL BREAK PLANNED WHEN SCHRANK WAS IN PRISON

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 27.—Evidence that a jail delivery was planned by prisoners during the time John Schrank would be assassin of Theodore Roosevelt, was confirmed, there was revealed today when 12 steel saws were found hidden under a mattress in a cell recently vacated by James Wood, alias "Toronto Jimmy," a notorious safe blow.

RECOUNT OF VOTE IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY FAVORS PROGRESSIVES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 27.—The end of the legal controversy of the presidential election in Los Angeles county is in sight, and with it the untangling of the whole California muddle. The Progressives won a point in the superior court today, when Judge Gavin ordered a recount of the votes in the two precincts which have caused most of the contention, and the ballot boxes were immediately opened. The recount will be concluded some time Friday.

One more legal move will be made by the Democrats. They will file a similar complaint in equity in the superior court, Friday, asking for a recount in three city precincts on the same grounds set forth by the Progressives, and it is very likely that the ballots in the three precincts will be recounted.

Prominent Democrats stated tonight that no further legal steps would be taken in Los Angeles county.

The net result of the recount in the five precincts involved in today's decision, and that which the Democrats will probably secure Friday will not affect the vote for Wallace and Griffin, who hold the Progressive and Democratic electoral tickets respectively, except a possible loss of 15 votes by Wallace. All the Progressive electors except Wallace will gain about 110 votes as a result of the recount now in progress. In the other precincts, Democrats will gain. Delvalle will gain about 115; Doherty and Cooley, 57, and the other Democrats about six votes.

The board of supervisors is still working on the recount vote ordered by the appellate court, and it will not be concluded until the middle of next week. Democrats admitted tonight that they would not make the gains expected on the new count.

PLACE ALASKAN CLAIMS IN HANDS OF FEDERAL COURTS, SUGGEST MINERS

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 27.—A law which would take the determination of the validity of Alaska coal claims from the hands of the department of the interior and place it in the hands of the federal courts, was endorsed today by the American Mining congress.

A resolution was adopted calling for all claims filed prior to the withdrawal of November 12, 1906, to be permitted to bring action against the United States federal courts of Alaska with right of appeal to the United States court and United States supreme court to validate their claims, the claims being cancelled thereby and the issuing of patents becoming mandatory for those claims declared valid.

Other resolutions adopted included a recommendation to President-elect Woodrow Wilson, that he appoint a man from one of the so-called "public lands" states as secretary of the interior, and that congress direct the forestry service, to aid in building roads to isolated mining camps within forest reserves. The congress will urge that an appropriation be made for the compiling and publishing of mining statistics by the census bureau.

The following were elected today to fill vacancies on the board of directors of the congress:

D. W. Brunton, Denver; W. G. Conrad, Helena, Mont.; George H. Dern, Salt Lake; Harry L. Day, Wallace, Ida.; and W. B. Shackelford, Joplin, Mo.

ARREST MINISTER ON CHARGE OF MURDER

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 27.—The Rev. Charles Emelius, formerly pastor of the Lutheran church of New Sweden, Me., and two other persons were indicted today for the murder of C. Augustus Jacobson, of that town, in June, 1911. Emelius came to Maine from Becker county, Minnesota, and is said to be a graduate of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill. Others indicted with the minister were Mrs. Mary Jacobson, widow of the alleged victim; and her son, Edgar.

Jacobson's body was found in a clump of bushes near his home. A note, signed with Jacobson's name and written in Swedish, said he was committing suicide, and for a time the suicide theory was accepted. Several months afterward, rumors of murder resulted in the body being exhumed, and bullet wounds in the breast were found.

On June 2, Emelius, who, subsequent to the death of the older Jacobson, had married Edgar's sister, was taken into custody. Mrs. Jacobson and her son were arrested today.

TRYING TO SETTLE COFFEE TRUST SUIT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Negotiations between the United States and Brazil for the friendly settlement of the "coffee trust" suit, in which the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo is intensely interested, are transpiring, and the result may be known within a few weeks.

It is generally believed that any settlement would contemplate the gradual sale within a limited time on the open market of the 850,000 bags of coffee, valued at $10,000,000, said to be stored in New York, under the Brazilian valorization scheme, which constitutes the alleged trust.

Sao Paulo, the greatest coffee growing district in the world, is a party to the agreements under which the valorization committee operates, and which, it is alleged, ties up a substantial proportion of the coffee supply and increases the price.

Scientists in Germany and England both claim to have been the first to discover how to make rubber from starch by a synthetic process.

WILSON MAY SERVE ONE TERM OF SIX YEARS IF CLAYTON PLAN MATURES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—One term of six years for President Woodrow Wilson is now the scheme of members of the house who will attempt to push to early passage the Clayton resolution limiting the tenure of office of the president of the United States.

The extension of the four-year term of President Wilson, it is argued, may be submitted to the people for ratification at the same time congress submits the proposed amendment to the constitution providing that no one who has served as president of the United States shall be eligible for reelection.

Representative Clayton, author of the resolution and chairman of the judiciary committee, which presented a favorable report to the house, said today that he was not averse to an amendment prolonging by two years the term of Wilson and making him ineligible thereafter for election as chief executive of the nation.

In fact, Clayton indicated that his resolution may be perfected to bring about just this chance. Clayton will ask for a special rule from the house rules committee making privileged his one-term resolution, which is now upon the house calendar, but which might not be reached in the regular routine of business during the approaching session of congress.

It is desired if possible to obtain the adoption of this resolution during the short session in order that it may be promptly submitted to the states for ratification. With fairly quick work on the part of the states, a proposed change in the constitution may be accomplished within the four years and before the quadrennial campaign for president ensues.

PROPOSED SPACE RATES INSTEAD WEIGHT FOR MAIL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Rejection of a conference today between Postmaster General Hitchcock and representatives of several large railway systems of the country. The railway are now paid according to the weight of mail carried, while Mr. Hitchcock proposes to pay according to amount of car space actually used.

Figures compiled at the postoffice in the actual cost of carrying the mail indicate that under the present system many roads are receiving an orbant amount, while some of smaller lines are actually losing money.

Under the weighing system the government pays approximately $60,000 a year to the railways for carrying mail. Mr. Hitchcock contends if his plan is adopted it will result in an annual saving of not less than $9,000,000.

THURSDAY, NOV. 28, 1912.

IN A STRATEGIC POSITION

JUST what an advantageous position the Progressive party occupies a study of the election returns indicates. With careful unofficial estimates from the official returns from about half the states, and mairner, Wilson's popular vote is 6,156,748. Roosevelt's 3,928,140. Taft's 3,376,422. Wilson received 1,147,814 votes less than the combined vote for Roosevelt and Taft. Roosevelt beat Taft by 551,718 votes, placing the Progressive party firmly in second place.

Wilson is a minority president. His party, in spite of its tremendous majority in the electoral college and in the house, is a minority party. And it is, furthermore, a minority party made up of two bitterly hostile elements, held together in the past campaign only by the ties of party regularity and the hope of office.

Democracy's only hope for the future lies in keeping Republicans and Progressives divided, while at the same time retaining the entire Democratic strength within the party. The first part of the task will not be difficult. It is quite certain the Progressives will not return to the old party fold—to the shelter of Barnes and Penrose and Guggenheim. In every state they are already laying elaborate plans for the future organization of their party for the next fight, in 1914.

The great body of the Progressives will not return to the Republican fold. Neither will the standpat Republicans enter a party that declares for the recall of judges, the initiative and referendum, and other reforms enunciated in the Progressive platform. The Democrats will need to take no steps to keep the Progressives and Republicans from uniting. The break is final and irrevocable, based upon principle.

But will the Democrats be able to hold together in one party the conservatives and progressives who on November 5 voted for Wilson? To do so would be the greatest miracle of the age. A man can't be both a progressive and a conservative. Wilson is either one or the other. He was supported by the eastern Democracy, which considers him "safe." He was acceptable to Wall Street. On the other hand, he was given the "O. K." of no less a radical than William J. Bryan himself.

Even if Wilson should prove able to force through congress a tariff revision bill satisfactory alike to the free trade and the protection Democrats, that would not end the fight between conservative and progressive. Bryan and the Bryan Democrats believe as thoroughly in the need of court reform, in the initiative and referendum, as do Roosevelt and the Progressives. And these questions will inevitably come up. They, and not the tariff, are the leading questions of the day, because only as the people have the government completely in their own hands can they expect to be able to secure that social and industrial justice which is the crying need of the age.

These questions cannot long be dodged. The people aren't going to be satisfied forever with tariff discussions. A standpat party won't do. The Republican party held office many years by grace of doing nothing but took what has happened to the Republican party.

And that is just what will happen to the Democratic party. The conservatives and progressives within its ranks will split apart. The only question is as to when the split will come, and which wing will hold the old organization. It is pretty safe to say the conservatives will be the victors, as they were in the Republican party. All the advantage of position is theirs; they are firmly in the saddle both in the south and in the east.

If the progressives are driven out, as almost inevitably they will be, where will they go? Certainly not to the Republican party. And just as certainly to the Progressive party. Now just glance at the election figures. A loss of 1,250,000 votes by the Democrats, a gain of that many by the Progressives, will place the latter party in the lead.

And who can doubt but that many more than 1,250,000 Democrats will leave the party if it fails to solve the problems it has set itself to solve?

What Progressive, contemplating conditions, can have the least doubt as to the splendid future of the new party that has made such a splendid showing in its first battle?

ADAMS NOT FOR THE CABINET

ALVA ADAMS is most certainly not the man to place at the head of the interior department. His opposition to the federal conservation policy is so bitter that, if he were given the portfolio he seeks, he would out-Ballinger Ballinger. It would be his peculiar pleasure to do everything within his power, and that would be much to embarrass the forestry and reclamation services, and in so doing he would count it a patriotic service. He is so completely a state's rights man that he can see nothing but injury in all the great work of conservation that Theodore Roosevelt inaugurated for future generations.

But there is not much chance that Adams will be appointed. Woodrow Wilson is, if his previous declarations are to be accepted, as thoroughly in favor of conservation as is Theodore Roosevelt. It is significant that when he visited Colorado during the campaign, he made no attack either on conservation or on Pinchot, though urged to do so by local Democrats. He is, indeed, a personal friend of Pinchot, and, according to the Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript, may even appoint Pinchot to the office Ballinger disgraced.

Imagine the feelings of Alva Adams, T. M. Patterson and other leading Democrats of Colorado, if the Transcript's prediction should be fulfilled!

NEXT, REDUCE THE FARES

COLORADO railroads, so it is announced, will abolish passes. They ought to have been abolished, many years ago, and would have been, if the railroads had not corrupted, with passes and other favors, enough legislators to prevent the passage of legislation promised by both old parties.

Colorado railroads, though giving away annually thousands of dollars in the form of free transportation, have earned good dividends. If passes are abolished dividends will be still further increased. But if the railroads have been paying good dividends during the era of unlimited passes, then, with passes abolished, the extra money earned should not go to the railroads, in extra dividends, but to the people, in reduced passenger fares.

But the people won't get reduced fares until they get a utilities commission with power to make rates. The passage of such a law is the first duty of the incoming legislature.

SEEK THE CAUSE

"NOT guilty," is the verdict in the case of the Lawrence strike leaders. The way to prevent violence in strikes is not to prosecute the leaders, but to put an end to strikes. And this can be done only by giving justice to the men employed. It does no good to attempt to reform the effect if the cause remains. And the cause of violence in strikes will remain as long as men and women are paid starvation wages.

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW

To the Editor of The Gazette:
In regard to the eight-hour law for women, I am inclined to believe that it will be more of a detriment than a help until it is made to apply to men as well as women. Many who now employ women expect to dispense with their services, and employ men in their stead when the eight-hour law is enforced. This, of course, will mean that a great many girls will then be without employment, and this will give the state a social problem, the solution of which will be vastly more difficult than the working-girl problem as it is now.

While most of the working girls admit that eight hours a day is long enough for them to work, yet all honest women who are forced to support themselves by their own labor will agree that to work 10 hours a day is preferable to enforced idleness.

THE NEEDS OF BETHEL

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Bethel is the only Protestant hospital in our city. For many years the Catholic hospitals have been doing their good work. It has now been a little more than a year since Bethel opened her doors to the community. That Bethel has a place, and opportunity to serve, as well as her sister hospitals, brings joy to all concerned.

Many have been the expressions of gratitude for the service rendered. This is the joy of our Thanksgiving: that some on "their white beds of pain" have been comforted; that some have been snatched from the "valley of the shadow" and restored to health to loved ones. Yes, even thankful that the way down to the brink of the dark river, the other shore of which is light, has been made a way of quietness and peace for some.

This has all been brought to pass through the splendid cooperation of the physicians and surgeons who have treated the poor even as those who were blessed with this world's goods. For behold a greater miracle than Transmutatio. In the very midst of the materialistic abundance of our own city there still exists the "doctor of the old school."

To illustrate: A father, a stranger within our gates, said with tears in his eyes, even as he carried the body of his son off, "I have had many experiences in life, but have never been in a place where everyone was so kind to me as they have been at Bethel." These are the thanks that help to make the burden worth while.

Yet our free work has not been what we wish it could be. Until July 1, out of a total cost of caring for patients of $26,000 there was given $1,877.20 in free service. Since that date the percentage of free work has been even greater. From this time on we trust it can be said of Bethel, house of mercy, house of God, that no patient was ever turned away because they did not have money with which to pay. Money is not the test of a man's worth.

When the fact is considered that we have practically no income, in the general expense fund, except that received from patients, the wonder is that we have been able to do this amount of free work. Bethel is handicapped in this matter as no hospital should be.

Thanksgiving time is here. The Bethel family cannot gather about the home fireside. The needs are great and pressing. It is a home need and close to your door. The poor, as well as others, are cared for at Bethel. There are many needs that a generous, open-handed, open-hearted, open-pursed community can fill and be blessed in so doing. For it is "more blessed to give than to receive."

It takes no very great stretch of the imagination for American folks to know what kind of donations are acceptable at Thanksgiving time. As a word to the wise is sufficient, I will say no more. I say this one word, not only for Bethel, but for every worthy institution and individual in our fair city of overflowing, but sometimes not distributed as it should be, abundance.

THE LAUNDRY QUESTION

To the Editor of The Gazette:
We hear that the laundry men are going to put the eight-hour law into effect, that you intend to pay us for just the eight hours, but that you are going to expect us to do the same amount of work as we are doing now. Well, we will meet you half way. We are only making a measly living now, and we cannot agree with you. We want equally the same wages we are making now. We want legal holidays. We want one hour for dinner Saturday and no 25-pound irons used. We would like to hear from the laundry men on this question.

ECONOMY OR?

By RUTH CAMERON.

One of the most frequently misinterpreted words in the English language is one with which three-quarters of us have had reason to be very familiar. And that word is economy.

Economy means thrift. It doesn't mean parsimony; it doesn't mean meanness; above all things it doesn't mean a short-sighted and self-defeating policy of doing without those things which can be most easily dispensed with, regardless of consequences.

A neighbor of mine has pretty hard work to make both ends meet. She has three young children in her household, and it is not possible for her to leave home for an afternoon without having someone to take her place. Once in a while when the errands which she cannot ask anyone else to do have accumulated, she hires a woman to stay with the children and goes to town. She had just come back from such a trip the other evening when I went over to call and found her stretched out on the couch, pale and evidently completely exhausted.

"Does it tire you so much to shop?" I asked.
"It isn't just the shopping," she said, "but I walked all over town. I had an errand at A's and one at B's, (naming two points over a mile apart), and walking tires me so."

"Why on earth didn't you take a car?" I asked in wonder. I actually never thought of the economy (?) motive. It seemed too absurd.
"I thought it would be extravagant," she said. "Think of it! She was paying a woman for the time she was using; she knows that if she overdoes her strength, as she often does, she will have to pay a woman to help her with the work; and yet she spent lavishly of both time and strength to save 5 cents."

Economy, economy, what extravagances are committed in this name?

Another woman in our neighborhood frequently boasts of the infinitesimal sum on which she contrives to feed her family. She is always criticizing her next-door neighbor's bountiful board as being fearfully extravagant in view of her husband's modest salary.

Her neighbor on being acquainted with these charges retorted, "If she will add the doctor's bills she is always paying for those sickly, anemic, under-fed children, to her household bills, I guess she will find that it costs her just as much to live as it does me, if not more."

Her neighbor was right. Nor do the doctor's bills alone represent all the cost of this woman's economy. She must also charge up against it the loss of efficiency which these children will probably suffer later from their under-fed childhood.

False economy is as common as poverty. Real economy is as rare as brains. False economy is a thankless task. Real economy is a fine art. Which do you practice?

I thanksgiving

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Thanksgiving day was set apart as a day on which to stop grumbling and to give miscellaneous and promiscuous thanks.

It is an American institution and is more necessary in this country than in any other because of the vast opportunities to become better off and thus acquire more worry. In Russia 100,000,000 people give thanks every day because they have been permitted to live by the government, but in this country unless a man has acquired a new railroad or a new automobile or a new wife during the year he has been grievously slighted and feels as if he had a perfect right to hold out on the annual gratitude fest.

This is very wrong, however. There is so much for which to be thankful that we ought to be stretched all out of shape with gratefulness as well as turkey on Thanksgiving day. Even if we have not had wealth, health, happiness nor political office during the year, we can still be thankful for one million things, among which the following can be prominently mentioned: Because we have neither been run down by an automobile nor have had to pay for running down anyone.

"We ought to be stretched all out of shape with gratefulness as well as turkey."

Because we do not have to worry about the income tax or criminal trust law.

Because we are not William Howard Taft.

Because there isn't a piano player next door.

Because we do not have to get aboard a floating palace and give our seat to a lady when it rains.

Because we didn't bet on Roosevelt.

Because we do not have to stand through the services if we fall to receive seats at church.

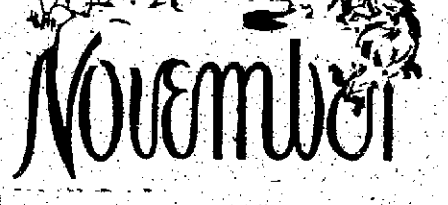

Because last year's wife and family are plenty good enough for us.

Because we will not have to buy another turkey for a year.

Because Cornwallville got captured.

Because the Mayflower didn't take the northern passage and took for the iceberg to get out of the way.

Even these few things ought to keep us grateful over Thanksgiving.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

With care, the success which you long for will be yours. It is better to concentrate your attention on a few things than to attempt too many of them. If you are employed, be especially careful and just in your judgments.

Those born today will be talented, but will work hard, where others would know how to serve themselves. They will be restless, and will too often change from one occupation to another.

EXTRACTING LION'S TOOTH

From the Scientific American.

Toothache seems to be a concomitant of civilization. Civilized people with perfect teeth are comparatively scarce. Uncivilized and even semicivilized people give their teeth no care, and yet they remain white and sound. But let such people move to a civilized land, and dental troubles will be sure to develop. The Bulgarian peasant knows neither toothbrush nor toothpaste, while his fellow-townsmen, suffer greatly from caries.

The same seems to be true even of wild animals. When as captives they are brought into touch with civilization, their teeth not infrequently yield to our highly civilized disease, and the surgeon of the zoo is obliged to operate upon them. As may be imagined, his task is no simple one in the case of large, ferocious animals.

Such an operation was recently performed at the White City Jungle, London, by Dr. Watt, a West London veterinary surgeon. The patient was a lion cub, 14 months old, which had been suffering with toothache for some time. He was drawn up against the bars of his cage and held firmly with ropes; then his mouth was kept open with chunks of wood while the surgeon drew the decayed molar.

QUEER GAMBLING IN INDIA

From the New York Herald.
A queer form of gambling has developed in India for which the New York cotton market is indirectly responsible.

Five quotations from the New York market are cable to India every day, and the natives conceived this to be a direct invitation to them to establish a simple but none the less absorbing form of gambling. The gambling consists simply in guessing what the five figures would amount to and the man getting nearest to the right amount wins.

So fascinating did this game prove that the authorities became greatly annoyed by the indulgence of the poorer class of natives to it. Efforts have been made to lessen it, and it is believed that some success has been attained.

We are closed today for Thanksgiving.

THE HASKIN LETTER

THE FISH INDUSTRY
VI ON THE PACIFIC COAST
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Excepting the oyster and the herring, the salmon has the greatest commercial value of any fish and the salmon fisheries of the Pacific coast of North America produce the finest in the world. The American salmon fishing interests, including California, Oregon, Washington and Alaska, together with British Columbia, represent millions of dollars of investment and produce millions of dollars of output annually.

Five species of salmon are found in the northern Pacific waters, the most important and best known of which is the chinook, quinnat or king salmon. It is known from the Ventura river in California to Norton sound in Alaska and has been found on the Alaskan coast as far south as southern China. There is no reason why it is not likely to be found even in the Arctic regions.

The king salmon changes color somewhat with the seasons. In the spring the body is silvery with more or less numerous round black spots upon the back, dorsal fin and caudal fin and the sides of the head have a luster resembling tin. In the fall the color is in some places black or a dirty red. The average weight of this fish is about 22 pounds, but individual fish weighing from 70 to 100 pounds are sometimes taken. One salmon was caught in Klaskan, Alaska, in 1909, weighed 109 pounds dressed and without the head. The size of the fish is apt to vary according to its habitat. The average weight for southwest Alaska salmon is 23 pounds, for those of Columbia river 23 pounds, while those in the vicinity of Sacramento average only 16 pounds. In most of the place the fish is of a deep salmon red, but in some localities, especially southeast Alaska, Bristol bay, Puget Sound and British Columbia, sometimes as large a proportion as one-third of the fish will have white flesh. Sometimes the fish will have white flesh, other white, or with mottled flesh, and so far no satisfactory explanation has been given for these peculiarities.

Mystery About Salmon.

There is a great deal of mystery about the salmon and the closest study so far has failed to yield full information. It is known that the fish is born in fresh water and goes out into the ocean for the greater part of its life; but how far it goes, what its food consists of, and how long it remains away no one can say. Sometimes there have been great schools of them found hundreds of miles from land but they were always headed towards the land. They travel in such numbers that the smaller streams are sometimes almost choked with them.

They follow closely along the shore in search of a suitable spawning place. The male fish scoops the female down with his nose in a hole and she deposits her eggs. It is generally believed that the salmon spawns only once, after which it soon dies. When returning from the sea, salmon will go as near the head waters of a stream as they can get. In Alaska, when the schools are coming in, it is not unusual to see fish leaping from the water almost to pieces in their attempts to jump falls which are too high for them. For this attempt they will retire down stream for some distance, make a futile rush and then leap upward out of the water to an incredible height.

To the southern range, the salmon strikes at Monterey bay in sufficient numbers to justify commercial fishing by the middle of April, when it is found feeding upon schools of herring and sandhogs, continuing until August.

There are two runs about Sacramento the first beginning in April and continuing throughout May and June and the second lasting from August to October. These two sometimes merge into each other and there is sometimes a third run in December. The first run during January, February and March. In southeast Alaska there are found at all times of the year in Cook Inlet the run occurs during May and June and is composed entirely of red-tailed fish. In the Yukon rivers the fish may be seen in the upper courses as late as July the late as July the

late as July the

Columbia Great Fish River.

The sockeye or blue back sal which forms the greatest part of canned salmon of the world, is said to be the maximum weight being a 12 pounds and the length three, while the average weight is not 12 than five pounds. In Alaska the eye is generally known as the red mon because it has considerable of south as the Sacramento river, by most frequent in the Fraser river, all of the coastal streams of British Columbia, while Alaska furnishes the greatest American supply.

The Columbia, which is the largest river of the Pacific slope and the dividing line between Washington and Oregon, has produced more salmon than any other river in the world. Many years before the advent of white men the Indians visited banks and caught and preserved annual supply of winter food. In 1834 a small trading ship under command of Captain Lamoignon came into Columbia and dropped anchor.

What is now known as St. Helens, while waiting for a return cargo captain sailed down a number of miles of Chinook salmon, using a Jamaican rum keg for the purpose. It is the first record of the export of fish. The first fishing operation white men began soon after settlement of what is now Seattle in 1832. The fish was sold, either fresh or salted. The first cannery on Puget Sound was erected in 1854. The first salmon cannery in the United States was erected at George Hume, on the Sacramento in 1864. At first no one would invest in the new product and Mr. Hume to fill a basket with cans of salmon and start and distribute it gratuitously among his neighbors who in this became acquainted with its good qualities.

Fisheries Valuable.

According to the detailed report the Pacific salmon industry $25,000,000 is invested in its apparatus and plant. More than half of this is invested in Alaska. Nearly 30,000 women and children are employed. About two-thirds of these are and the balance are Chinese, Japanese and Indians. The total production the year 1909 were 385,336,482 pounds which yielded to the fisherman goodly sum of $7,224,024. These figures refer only to Alaska and the states of Oregon, California and Washington. The value of British Columbia did not fall far behind.

The Pacific coast yields a number of valuable fish products, the most important of which is the salmon. The United States bureau of fisheries, the Albatross, last year made a trip through the halibut grounds of Alaska and has presented a report declaring that there are great reserves to be developed. There is a considerable amount of cod found upon the Pacific coast and believed that this fish can be raised to such a degree that the orn cod fisheries of the future rival those of the east in importance.

The most important feature of the Pacific coast fisheries is the herring industry. The American consular at Hongkong is endeavoring to revive the trade in salt herring the Pacific coast to China, which behind last year. The herring of Alaska last year amounted to more than 12,000 tons and that of the Pacific coast states to about a third that. A plant at Killisnoe, Alaska for a number of years been in operation and of from herring, has put out an average of 120,000 barrels. It is said now that about 600 tons of cheap salted herring be marketed each year in the countries at from $20 a ton up to $40. To many it would seem that this is a more profitable utilization of fish than in the manufacture of fertilizer and oil. These demand cheap fish, however, are in the of many fish experts a serious threat to the herring industry of the Pacific coast.

At The Theater

THE CONFESSION AT THE OPERA HOUSE

his celebrated play will be produced by the Opera house by an excellent company. Friday and Saturday, evening, and special matinee, Saturday afternoon. The Rev. M. E. Howley, bishop, St. John's, Newfoundland, is the following to say about the play.

I had the pleasure of witnessing the performance of your very unique and interesting play, "To Serve the Cross," called "The Confession." The play one of capturing and entrancing interest, and is admirably well-performed by the talented troupe. There is nothing in any way to cause irreverence, but, on the contrary, a sense of deep reverence and devotion seemed to permeate the hearts of the audience.

It is well that the theater, which has often been perverted to vain and avaricious uses, should now be wrested in the service of the power of evil, turned to nobler and better work showing forth in a vivid manner the great truths of God's law, and the strength and beauty of his holy church. I cannot but think that this play will become the instrument of much good, both in removing false impressions of Catholic teachings from the minds of many who are misled and of the rekindling of the light of faith and the fervor of religious love in those who are already faithful children of the mother church.

Reserved seats are now on sale at the box office for this engagement.

THE HAGENBECK & WALLACE CIRCUS PICTURES AT THE OPERA HOUSE

This afternoon will be your last chance of witnessing the famous Hagenbeck & Wallace circus pictures at the Opera house.

These pictures start with the arrival of the circus train, the unloading of the animals, the putting up of the tents, the crowds in front of the big tent waiting to get in, the trip through the menagerie, and the entire performance.

One of the novel features is the watering of the big hippopotamus, "Harry," with the fire hose. They try to drown him at each performance.

Mr. Lou Pink and his celebrated circus band will give an open-air concert in front of the theater before the performance. They also furnish music during the intermission.

The prices for the matinee are: Adults, 25c; children, 10c. The performance starts at 2:45 sharp.

THE BURNS NEWS NOTES

Special matinee today: Doors open at 1:15 p. m. Curtain rises at 2:30 p. m. sharp.

We have in preparation one of the prettiest romances of the day. "The Little Gray Lady," which opens December 2, is a really good, high-class, royal play.

"At Cozy Corners" is just the thing to enjoy after a good old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, and The Burns is the place to go to see it.

This week's music is full of fun and fire. Thanksgiving music.

"At Cozy Corners," the bill for this week at The Burns, is a rural comedy drama in four acts, by Pauline Phelps and Marion Short.

It is recognized as one of the best modern rural plays, having a strong, dramatic story and all the comedy elements which are always so plentiful in rural plays.

AFTER TURKEY, THE BURNS. AT COZY CORNERS. MATINEE AND NIGHT

The first rural comedy of the season at The Burns, "Our New Minister," proved so successful that Mr. Hawkins at once decided on "At Cozy Corners" as the best available rural comedy drama.

SPECIAL

Matinee today at 2:30 p. m. Prices, 50c, 35c, reserved, 25c, unreserved. The Burns management takes pleasure in stating that arrangements have been completed with Mr. William Pink to give a musical program especially adapted to Thanksgiving. After this splendid music which this orchestra has rendered during the past season, the public may rest assured that The Burns program for Thanksgiving week will include musical numbers which will be a high-class concert in themselves.

There will be two matinees this week, one today and Saturday afternoon. The play will be presented in perfect style, every actor being already world-perfect.

SPECIAL NOTE

We wish to announce that the Colorado college and Denver university football teams will occupy four boxes at The Burns tonight, as the guests of Dr. A. A. Blackman. The theater will be tastefully decorated with college colors.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR" AT THE OPERA HOUSE

In reviewing "Bought and Paid For," which opened a three weeks' engagement at the Opera house, Monday, September 2, and will be the attraction at the Grand Opera house, Monday evening, for one performance only, Wednesday Young, in the San Francisco Chronicle of September 3, says:

"There is a great play in every stage production or so, there comes into the life of the theater a play so vital, so humanly, so true to all characteristics, dramatic and narrative, that it is a gem among a lot of banal, artificial plays."

"Bought and Paid For," which opened a three weeks' engagement at the Opera house, yesterday afternoon, is such a play. It comes with a clever cast of New York players, direct from Broadway. San Francisco is seeing now the biggest play in years done by a cast of clever players. The answer will be found in capacity business for the next three weeks here, with all box office records shattered. This is not a prediction. Eddie James Gilley, in the play, I am always willing to take a chance where I know that I cannot lose. "Bought and Paid For" will be true to its title so far as seats are concerned, and it will earn every profligate dollar by its own inherent dramatic strength. Human? Yes, and that means everything. It gets in close where the heart beats and the tears ducts are, and it insists upon an open state and fair way. Human? Yes, and in another way, last you think it is long to the sob drama, which it does not. In the one character, James Gilley, which is played with genuine art, it becomes so true to life as life is with a whole lot of people, that you laugh hugely and with the mind dictating your every chuckle. In the part of James Gilley, Broadhurst has drawn as true a character as the modern stage has known. There are as many laughs in "Bought and Paid For" as there are intense moments, but when the tense moments come, they find you gripping the arms of your chair and living the whole thing through with the people on the stage. Through it all, too, is a human touch which Dramatist Broadhurst achieves in his play building, and the cast interprets with masterly skill."

COMBINATION PATROL AND AMBULANCE AUTO PLANNED

A combination patrol and ambulance automobile will be installed in the police department by January 1, according to plans of Police Commissioner Hinchbaugh and Chief of Police Burns. They propose to purchase a chassis and equip it with a combination patrol and ambulance car, remodeled from either the ambulance or patrol now in use. The one convenience will serve both purposes, as the police ambulance is summoned only for emergencies. The cost will be about $1,400.

EVOLUTION DOLLAR MARK BY DEAN FLORIAN CAJORI

"The Evolution of the Dollar Mark" is the subject of an interesting article written by Dean Florian Cajori of Colorado college, for the current issue of the Popular Science Monthly. Dean Cajori traces the history of the mark from the Spanish peso, abbreviated as ps. The article is in part as follows:

The earliest known occurrence of the $ in print is in an American arithmetic, Chambers' Lee's American Arithmetic, published in 1797 at Lancaster, Pa. This fact was pointed out in 1899. A recent writer again calls attention to this arithmetic and then, with sweet simplicity of mind, conveys the idea that this publication constitutes the true origin of the dollar mark. By this mental short cut he saved himself the drudgery of a research which, in our case, has extended over several years. After 1850 the symbol began to be used freely, both in print and in writing. On September 23, 1862, William A. Washington wrote a letter on the disposal of part of the bottom land above the Potomac, belonging to the estate of George Washington. In this letter there is mention of "$20," "$30" and "$40" per acre. In this article it has been established that the $ is the lineal descendant of the Spanish abbreviation "peso" that the change from the florine to $ was made about 1776 by English-Americans who came in business relations with Spanish-Americans, and that the earliest printed $ dates back to the year 1757.

NOTHING EQUALS S.S.S. FOR OLD SORES

Nothing equals S. S. S. as a cure for Old Sores because nothing equals it as a blood purifier. The source and supply of every chronic sore is impure blood; the circulation is infected with germs and morbid accumulations which are being constantly deposited into the open place. This causes ulceration and inflammation of the flesh tissues and produces a condition upon which salves, washes, lotions, etc., can have no curative effects. The blood must be purified of all infectious matter before the circulation can nourish the flesh tissues and stimulate them to the healthy condition necessary to heal the sore. S. S. S. is also old sores by going down to the fountain-head of the trouble and driving out the germs and morbid matters which are keeping the ulcer open. Then as new, rich blood is carried to the place, the healing begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the ulcer is well. You are not wasting time when you use S. S. S., but you are giving yourself the benefit of the very best treatment for old sores. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

TO PUBLISH ORDINANCES

Publication of the Colorado Springs code was authorized by the city council yesterday. An ordinance providing for the compilation, publication and distribution of "Ordinances of the city of Colorado Springs, and the city charter of the city of Colorado Springs, and all the general ordinances of said city, classified under appropriate heads, with indexes, and a volume," was placed on first reading by the council and ordered sent to the printer.

Old ordinances have been revised in accordance with the requirements of the charter, and invalid ordinances have been officially canceled, and the new volume will contain only the revised laws of the city.

S. R. Moss, Benchley, Texas, says: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup, and we thought we would lose him. But one bottle of Eley's Honey and Tar Compound pulled him through. We would not be without it in our house." The Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

BUYS DRUG INTEREST

W. W. Wood, a druggist of Helena, Ark., has purchased a half interest in the Paris Drug Co. here, and will become identified with the firm at once. Mr. Wood will bring his family to Colorado Springs in a few days.

To Overworked Women

Are you one of the great army of women who thru force of circumstances have had to do more than your rightful share of work? In your weakened condition you have almost lost all hope of ever enjoying that health and strength that should be yours.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

No Alcohol No Narcotics

For over forty years has been recommended for just such cases as yours. Thousands of women have benefited by it.

You, too, will find it a good, honest, square deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nervine and Regulator—compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate and ever sensitive organism. It makes weak women strong, sick women well. For over 40 years it has given satisfaction in its liquid form. Now it can also be obtained in tablet form—from dealers in medicine—or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 500 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, cloth-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

One of Many

Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Lyndon, Va., writes: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read the big paper about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle when I found it had done me good. I took in all five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."
